FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How does using the Sourcewell contract save me time?	Since Sourcewell has already completed the competitive solicitation process at the national level, the “heavy lifting” of the legal bidding process is done. You can move straight to selecting your vehicle and issuing a purchase order, without the months-long RFP drafting and advertising phase.
Does this process meet my local bidding requirements?	Sourcewell contracts are competitively solicited and awarded according to the same standards used by local and state governments. Most public agencies, educational institutions, and non-profits can satisfy their local bidding requirements simply by citing the Sourcewell contract number, however you should always check with your local compliance regulations to be certain.
What types of vehicles can I procure through Model 1?	You have access to the most diverse inventory in the country, including (but not limited to): OEM cars, trucks and SUVs, cargo and passenger vans, wheelchair-accessible ADA minivans and fullsize vans (low-floor or standard), work trucks (upfit options available), cutaway vans and buses (ADA, low-floor or standard), and more!
Can I customize vehicles, or am I limited to “off-the-lot” options?	You have full flexibility. While Model 1 maintains thousands of in-stock “ready-to-ship” inventory for immediate needs, the Sourcewell contract also covers custom upfits. You get the exact specifications your fleet requires—from seating configurations to specialized accessibility equipment.
What happens after the vehicle is delivered?	Your peace of mind is a priority. Through the Model 1 network, you receive ongoing technical support, access to a massive parts inventory, and specialized service to ensure your fleet maintains maximum uptime throughout its entire lifecycle.
